

SMALL GROUP ESSENTIALS

Are you interested in becoming a trained Small Group leader?

- Could you be called?
- Want to gain more confidence?
- Looking for some extra training?

Do you know someone in your congregation who would make a great Small Group leader?

- Are they a people person?
- Do you see leadership potential?
- Could they start or lead a Small Group?

Email emma.snook@bristoldiocese.org for more details.

THE SIX

CALLING

↳ Thinking about our calling, with an introduction to the course and the opportunity to meet others who have experience of leading.

COMPETENCE

↳ Recognising that each group context is different, that there are core values that enable people to flourish whilst still relating to one another, and that we can confidently apply these values to our own groups.

CHEMISTRY

↳ Thinking about the chemistry of small groups and the skills and resources available to help them flourish

CULTURE

↳ Understanding how small group leaders connect the purpose of the small group to the missional purposes of the congregation. Exploring how small groups can be part of wider pathways for growth.

CHARACTER

↳ Reflecting on the importance of character and integrity in the shaping of healthy small groups.

COMMUNITY

↳ An invitation to join a 'Community of Practice' check-in involving facilitated meetings for 12 months, every 4-6 weeks on Zoom.

SMALL GROUP ESSENTIALS

Are you interested in becoming a trained Small Group leader?

- Could you be called?
- Want to gain more confidence?
- Looking for some extra training?

Do you know someone in your congregation who would make a great Small Group leader?

- Are they a people person?
- Do you see leadership potential?
- Could they start or lead a Small Group?

Email emma.snook@bristoldiocese.org for more details.

THE SIX

CALLING

↳ Thinking about our calling, with an introduction to the course and the opportunity to meet others who have experience of leading.

COMPETENCE

↳ Recognising that each group context is different, that there are core values that enable people to flourish whilst still relating to one another, and that we can confidently apply these values to our own groups.

CHEMISTRY

↳ Thinking about the chemistry of small groups and the skills and resources available to help them flourish

CULTURE

↳ Understanding how small group leaders connect the purpose of the small group to the missional purposes of the congregation. Exploring how small groups can be part of wider pathways for growth.

CHARACTER

↳ Reflecting on the importance of character and integrity in the shaping of healthy small groups.

COMMUNITY

↳ An invitation to join a 'Community of Practice' check-in involving facilitated meetings for 12 months, every 4-6 weeks on Zoom.